BIRD OF HAPPINESS OVER ARROWS OF FRIENDSHIP

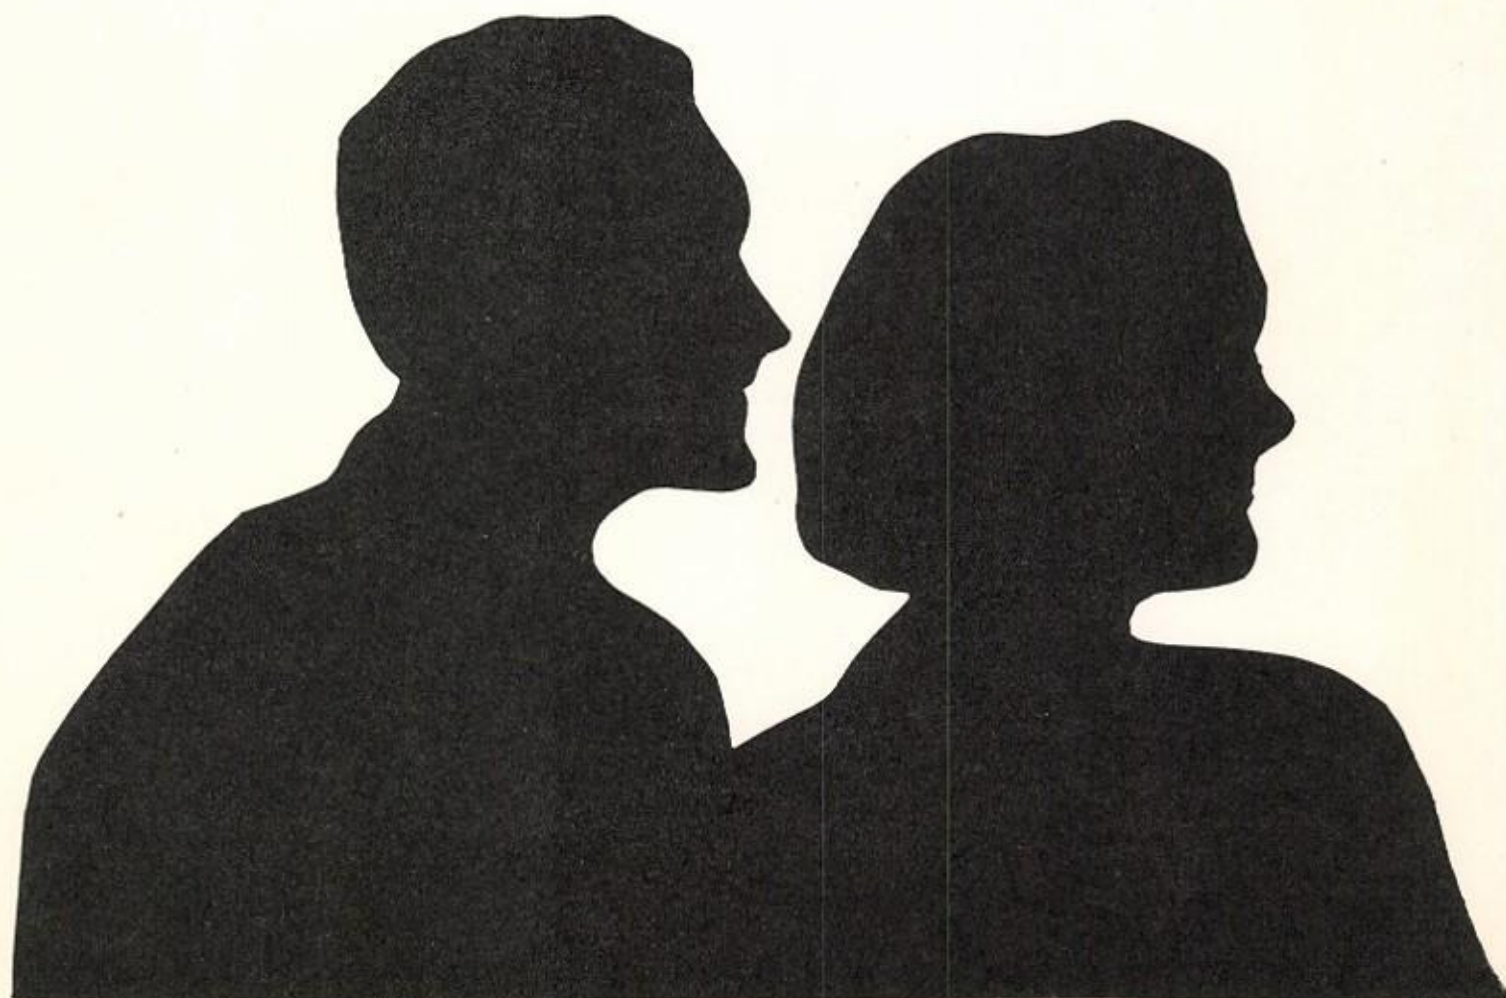

After four enjoyable years in high school, we, the senior class, wish to leave this annual to posterity, as a final token of our recognition for all the good things we have received, and as a symbol of our achievements during these years.

PRESENTED BY
HEBRON HIGH SCHOOL
HEBRON, INDIANA

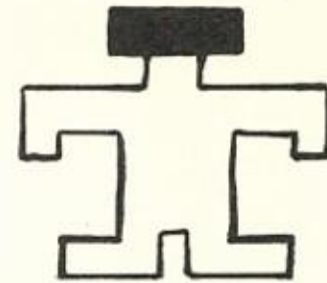

DEDICATION

We, the class of '49, dedicate this annual to you, our parents, who have always been our dearest and closest friends and companions. Yes, you were the ones who started us out with the right foot on the path of life. You gave us guidance when there was a problem at hand. This is a small gesture to show our appreciation. With sincerity and humility we dedicate this annual to you.

CLASS WILL

I, Anita Pfledderer, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be quiet when necessary to Stella Buchanan and Dean Bradley.

I, Thomas Sweney, do hereby will and bequeath one of my cars to Thomas Bell.

I, Charles Sweney, do here by will and bequeath my "many wrecks" to Herbert Young.

I, Catherine Anderson, do hereby will and bequeath my athletic ability to Alan Evans and Eugene Robey.

I, James Gericke, do hereby will and bequeath my "art classes" to Dale Eickelberger.

I, Charles Wagner, do hereby will and bequeath my friendliness to Donald Thomas.

I, Robert Felton, do hereby will and bequeath my ways with the women to James Metcalf and Cedric Berdine.

I, Maynard Gibson, do hereby will and bequeath my ways of getting ahead in the cafeteria line to Edith Litwiller.

I, Gerda Kaldahl, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be funny to Ray Schuster.

I, Muretta Butterworth, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to find gossip to Esther Hough.

I, Jeannine Wright, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to cause trouble to Carol Anderson.

I, Kathleen Witters, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get away with the "things" I do in speech class to Clarice Cochran.

I, Norma Aiken, do hereby will and bequeath my fluent English to Ann Brietzke.

I, Wilma Hough, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to study to Margie Fry.

I, Mary Rathburn, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to tell a joke to Joan Hewitt.

I, Jack Osby, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get out of town for my women to Paul Eggert.

I, Bernard Martin, do hereby will and bequeath my height to George Dilley.

I, Michael Wahl, do hereby will and bequeath my tenor voice to Eugene Birky.

I, Willis Birky, do hereby will and bequeath my "wavy hair" to Durand Searle.

I, Harold Button, do hereby will and bequeath my acting ability to Connor Viant.

I, Donna Van Veld, do hereby will and bequeath my musical ability to John Mitchell and Donald Fickle.

I, Christine Anderson, do hereby will and bequeath my way with teachers to Dorothy Laszlo and Mary Buchanan.

We, the class of '49, do hereby will and bequeath our ability to be calm and co-operative in all difficult situations to our underclassmen.

Down the highway, without a care,
Came Donna and Bernard: quite a pair!
A good combination of brain and brawn
Together they travel, on and on--

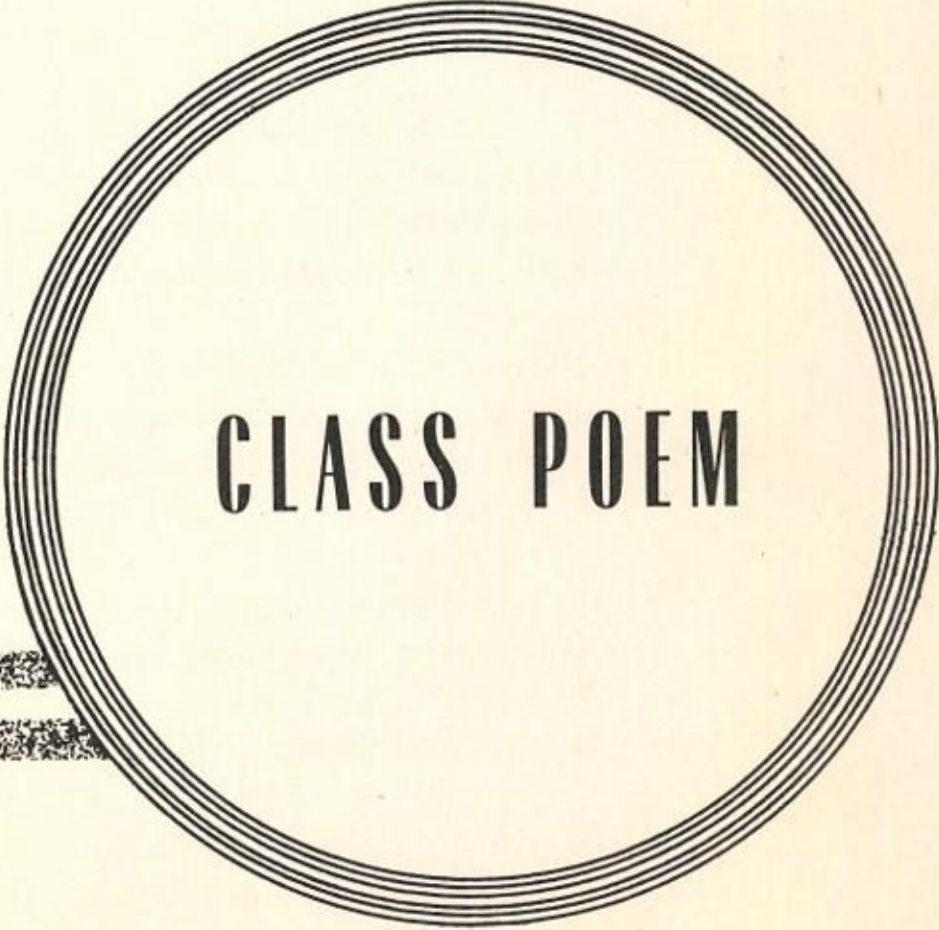

Down from the North with a skip and a stride
It was Kathleen and Bob whom I spied,
Petite and exacting, good-natured and kind;
Travellers so happy are hard to find.

Now, down the path a lass, Jeannine, comes along
Trilling alight and merry song;
From yet another direction, a lad with curly red hair,
Red, you know, for objects d'art, has quite a flair.

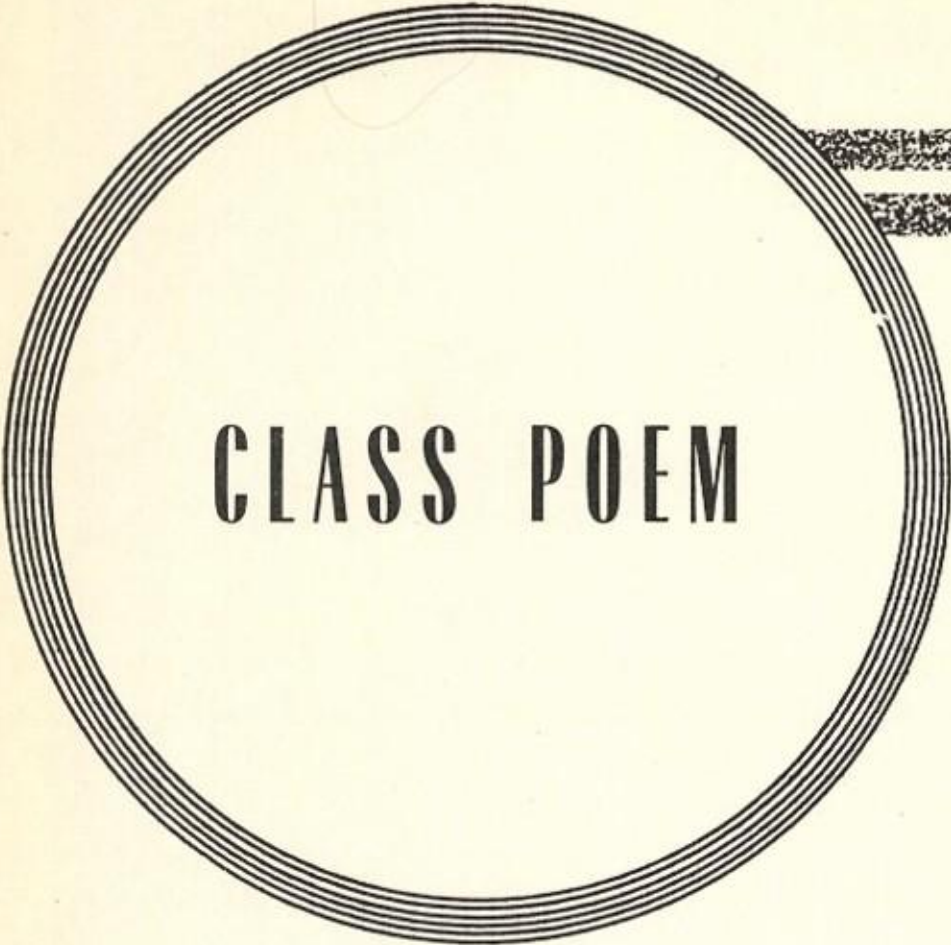

Wayfarers all, we travel this path,
The highway of life, now with a frown, now with a laugh,
Let us press onward, while we may;
Let us follow our calling and go not astray.

Strolling without concern, Maynard has a friendly way,
A teasing smile, and always a word to say;
Willis with quiet and courteous mien,
A boy modest and retiring, now is seen.

Coming my way, Muretta and Norma damsels--spirited and fair,
Someone's heart strings are bound to tear.
Ki's clever wit and charming smile
Gladens one and all at the end of a weary mile.

CLASS POEM

CLASS POEM

The Sweney cousins, Charles and Tom,
For athletic performance we depend upon.
Charles led our class as president
Oft his calm intellect Tom has lent.

Quick steps, alert inquiring mind Mike possesses,
He will follow this highway with many successes.
Jack has a genial personality, always an important factor;
As for his occupation he would make an excellent actor.

The Anderson twins, Chris and Kate, quite a pair!
Approach the highway with a jovial air
Unaffected and agile--nimble and gay;
A more animated twosome I haven't met in any a day.

Wilma has no equal for patience and sincerity;
She will devote her life, she vows, to help humanity.
In a deep voice Harold sauntering from the North
A novel quip a clever pun brings forth.

Gerda, with a quizzical grin whom I see
And Mary Margaret with a twinkling eye tell me
Of their future careers; to administer pills,
In their cheerful manner, while nursing the ill.

Standing by this road, to the North, South, East and West
I have seen you go. I have tried my best,
Though not a poet, to express my thoughts
Of the happy memories you have brought.

CLASS PROPHECY

The evening of June 1, 1959, was a gala affair for the seniors of '49. The gym was decorated similar to our Junior class prom.

Red Gericke, who made the plans for our Junior prom, had decorated for this reunion. Red went to California after graduation to study designing. He is now married to a French film star whom he met in California. Five little boys now call Red "Daddy."

In the bandstand was "Kate's Kittens," the hep-cat band of '59. Kate Anderson has organized an all girl band, featuring Kate on the trumpet. Harry James had to take a back-seat when Kate hit Hollywood. Kate is now married to a cop she met when tearing through Los Angeles in her Cadillac convertible.

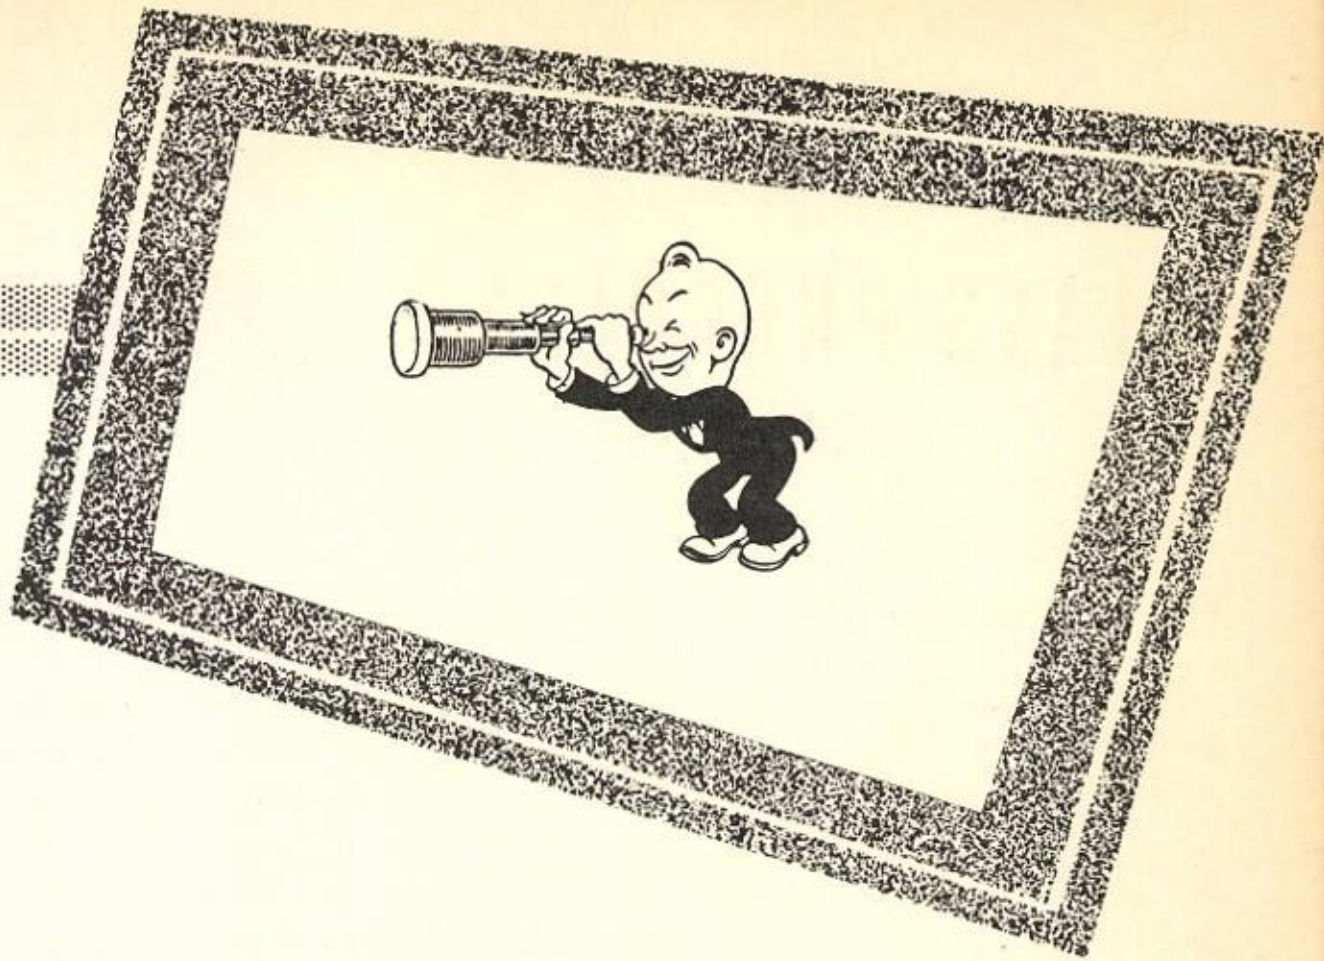

As Kate's band played the first strains of the opening waltz of the evening, the seniors of '49 swirled onto the dance floor. Dim lights and soft music had all of the old seniors reminiscing.

Donna and Bernard were one of the first couples on the floor. They flew from New York especially for the important occasion of our reunion. The stage has attracted this couple; they are at present appearing in Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

A distinguished gentleman tapped me on the shoulder and asked if I would join him and his wife in the lounge. This man had a small mustache and beard. I soon learned that his wife was my old school chum, Norma Aiden. Norma told me she was a psychiatrist working on the theory that women eat too much because they're hungry. Norma also told me that she and her husband have ten children running around the house, five boys and five girls.

Harold Button and his pretty wife were one of the distinguished couples at our class reunion. Harold is now a leading doctor in the United States. He attended a university in Moscow, after graduation from high school where he met his lovely blond wife. Both of them are famous surgeons living in a huge mansion in Florida.

Two late arrivals to the reunion were Anita Pfledderer and her handsome husband. Anita is a candidate for the first lady governor of Indiana. Anita's hubby is the ? Party leader. Can anyone remember what party Anita rooted for in the 1948 election? Anita was wearing one of the new plastic evening gowns which are so fashionable at the present time.

Kathleen Witters and Bob Felton were cooing in a corner as much in love as they were in high school. The circus has claimed these two from our class. Little Kathleen fools everybody by using balloons to make her appear fat. She is billed at weighing 600 pounds. She said she was dreadfully embarrassed once when a little boy stuck her with a pin and one hip collapsed. Bob owns a big cat act which is quite thrilling to watch. The ladies are attracted in droves by handsome Bob in his white breeches and carrying his long, black whip. Kathleen says she doesn't have to worry because Bob never looks at other girls.

Professor Osby was accompanied to the big affair by his charming wife Lolita. Jack is a professor in an Argentina University. After Jack graduated from high school, he took a trip to South America where he met Lolita, a beautiful Spanish girl, who persuaded Jack to attend a university and spend the rest of his life with her. You can imagine the fight Jack put up against a lovely lady like Lolita. Lolita confided to me that at home in Argentina there is a little Lolita, a Papeeta, and a Marprezza, plus a Don, a Juan, and a Ferdinand.

Gerda Kaldahl was in mourning which filled her classmates with grief. It seems that Gerda took a short course in electricity at Purdue after graduation. Gerda was so terrific that she was offered a job as chief electrocutor at Sing Sing. Everything was going fine until, unfortunately, she became acquainted with one of her victims, Willy, "the eel." From the moment they set eyes on each other they knew it was love. They had two weeks together before the fatal day. They lived those days to the fullest, looking through the bars at each other. On "D-Day," Gerda tried to get one of her assistants to pull the switch, but Willy said he wouldn't feel right about it if Gert's loving hand didn't caress the switch. Poor Gert!

A cry from the crowd arose when Chuck Sweney paraded into the gym followed by his managerie. Chuck was just back from Borneo where he was a missionary. He had brought with him his wife "Venus" and their kids, Bongo, Congo, Dongo, Songo, Longo, and Rongo, whom he planned to have bleached.

Maynard Gibson came to the celebration with a beautiful girl on each arm. Maynard is now a millionaire since he fell heir to a plantation in the South. Maynard is the most eligible bachelor south of the Mason-Dixon line.

CLASS PROPHECY

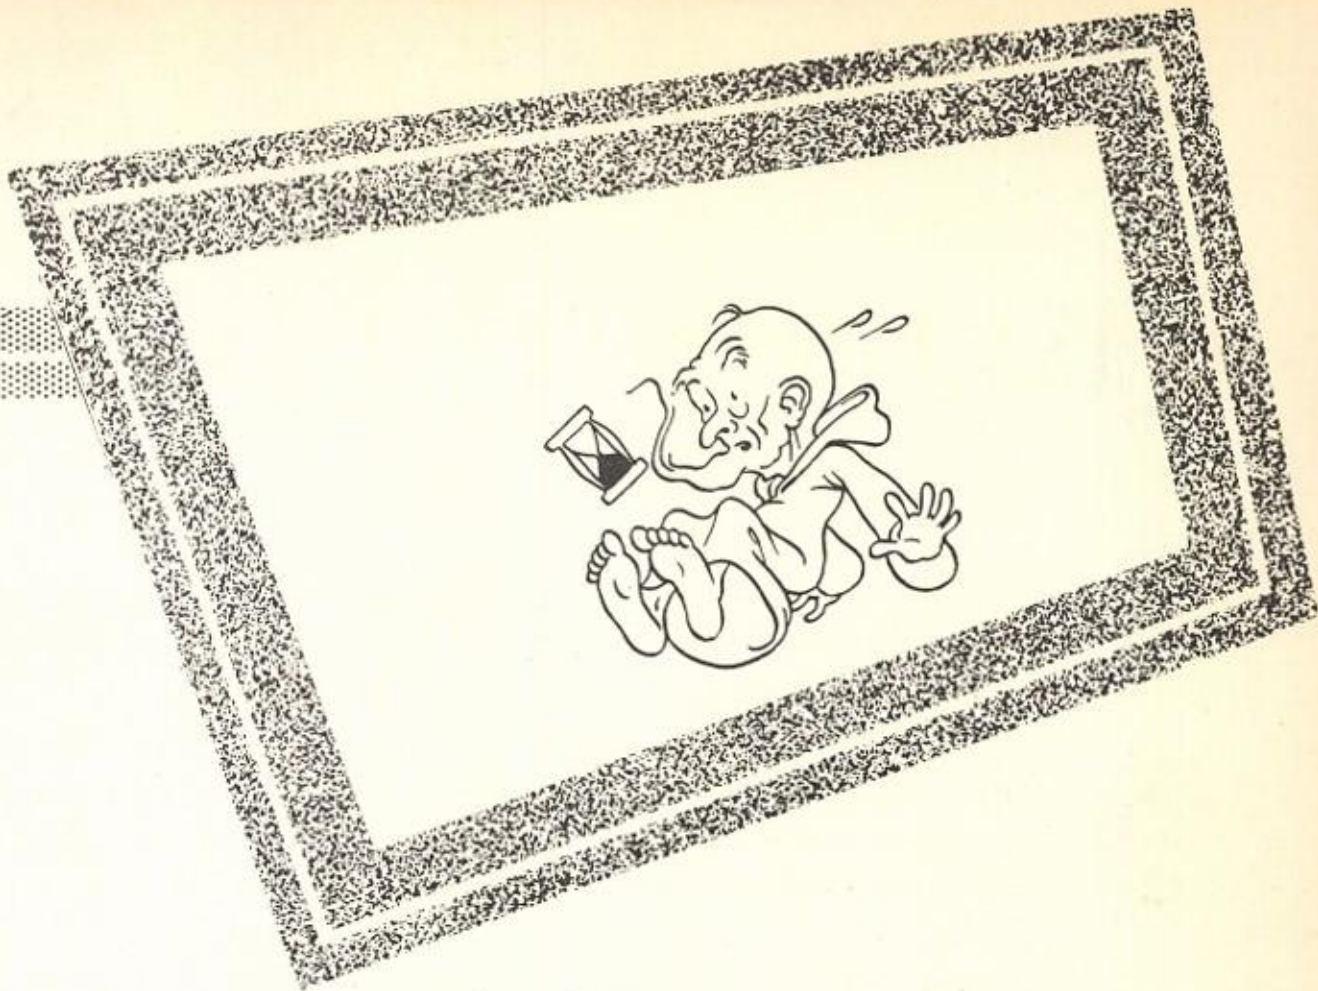

The dancers withdrew when the spotlight was beamed on a spectacular dancing couple. The crowd applauded enthusiastically as the couple swayed to and fro to the rhythm of the music. I saw that the boy was Tom Sweney. After the dancers had taken their bows, Tom introduced his partner as his fiancée. Tom had his name in lights on Broadway two years after graduation. He now lives in Vermont in the summer and in Florida through the winter. He is planning to retire at the age of thirty.

A whoop of Yippi-I-Ki-Oh echoed through the gym. The crowd turned toward the gym. The crowd turned toward the person responsible for the outburst. Guess who? Willis Birky, in a stetson, was starting to strum his guitar. It was common knowledge that Willis owned a big spread in Texas and had replaced Burl Ives, the singing troubador, on the radio and screen. To our great delight Willis played and sang several of his favorite songs.

Wilma Hough and her husband were a famous duo present. Wilma and her spouse are fearless deep-sea divers. Wilma told me that while diving for sponges one day she felt an arm steal around her and thinking it was an octopus slashed away at it with her knife. She almost made the poor guy bleed to death. While nursing him back to health she fell in love with him and they had their wedding ceremony under the sea. Need I say they had a very exclusive reception?

The highlight of the evening was at hand, the seniors of '49 crowded around the television set. The Masked Marvel was wrestling for her last time in Madison Square Garden. "We" knew that the Masked Marvel was Mary Margaret Rathburn, the Editor of our yearbook. Mary threw the Boston Bloomer Girl out of the ring in the 1st down, which made her the undisputed champion woman wrestler for ten years. Mary announced to the audience that she now planned to retire to a quiet life with her third husband, Ching Chow, a 300 pound Chinese wrestler.

As the band resumed playing I hailed one of my classmates I hadn't yet chatted with. Christine Anderson was escorted by a tall, dark and handsome gentleman. Christine has become a famous model and screen star in the ten years since her graduation. Chris was crowned Miss America of 1950 which led to movie contracts and many modeling jobs for leading magazines.

His Honor, Judge Wahl, and his sophisticated wife were among the notables present at the festivities. Judge Wahl, Mike to us, is a member of the Supreme Court. He is the youngest member ever to be allowed on the bench. An exception was made in Mike's case when, after one year as mayor of Chicago, he cleaned out every racketeer in that large city; one year and a half in New York City left that metropolis without any gangsters also. Mike is married to a socialite from Long Island. They are the proud parents of two children.

Miss Butterworth, Murt to us, wasn't able to attend because her school on an Indian reservation in New Mexico was still in session. The following fall after we graduated from good old Hebron High, Murt found herself uncontrollably drawn back to school, so she took up the teaching profession. Murt isn't yet married, but we hear from reliable sources that she is casting her eyes at a certain eligible young brave, a cousin to Tonto, the Lone Ranger's right hand man.

Ki Wagner was another member unable to be present. Ki was being treated in a hospital for somnambulism. Ki lives in Chicago near the Brookfield Zoo. One night some of Ki's friends found him swinging on the bars in the monkey cage oblivious to his surroundings. Another evening Ki was evidently dreaming of Lana Turner because he was in the bear cage saying, "Lana, what a beautiful fur coat you're wearing--but your nose is all wet." We all hoped sincerely that Ki would recover from this last escapade when "Lana" squeezed two ribs out of place.

A wonderful evening had drawn to a close for the seniors of '49. All of them anticipated our next reunion in '69.

CLASS HISTORY

Here are the "high-lights" of our past twelve years. Now that we are seniors, we can look back over our experiences which we shall never forget.

In 1937, a new group of brightfaces appeared at school for the first

In 1937, a new group of brightfaces appeared at school for the first time. Miss Wahl, who was our first grade teacher, had no trouble in controlling us since we were rather timid at this new experience. These new pupils were: Norma Aiken, Carol Anderson, Catherine Anderson, Christine Anderson, June Aylesworth, Mildred Beckwith, Muretta Butterworth, Mary Gingerich, Wilma Hough, Gerda Kaldahl, Beverly Klukas, Clara Margison, Joan McAlpin, Mary Morgan, Mary Morrow, Anita Pfledderer, Janis Prochno, Kathleen Witters, Mary Rathburn, Leland Albertson, Jimmy Cox, Stephen Fox, Fred Justice, Bernard Martin, Jack Osby, Glenn Smith, Walter Stockman, Tom Sweney, James Thornsbery, Mike Wahl, Don Fickle, Herbert Young, Theron Coates.

The next year we found ourselves in the second grade with Miss Wahl as our teacher again (of course we all didn't fail.) We were happy to have Donna Van Veld from Hammond, Milford Fox, Edward Davis, Leslie Sutter, William Miller and Eugene Osby in our class.

It was Mrs. McMillen who shared with us the thrill and experience of starting out third grade in the new school building. New pupils to share this with us were Curtis Richard, Robert Felton from Crown Point, Eugene and Betty Woodke, Ethel Griffin, Jeannine Wright from Ridge Road School, Barbara Wahlberg and Rosalie Craig.

In the fourth grade, we produced "Red Shoes from Plymouth" and "The Toy Mender." This was done under the direction of Miss Sloan. Remember the tea we gave for our parents afterwards? We were happy to have Charles Sweney, from Gary, join us. At that time we didn't know Charles would be one of the first five on our basketball team.

As fifth graders we had our first art lesson from Miss Nolan. She also had trouble in making us understand why we should behave as young ladies and gentlemen. Again this year our class gained members, Robert Hrdlicka, Pete Massey and Claudia Sampson.

During our sixth year, Mrs. Morrow was preparing us for the high school side. William Bohdon was in time to join us in the election of class officers. It was great fun to act as students in high school!

Seventh grade at last! There were so many new and interesting things to do. We had lockers instead of desks. No recesses! We not only had Mrs. Randle as our sponsor, but a different teacher for each subject. To make it more confusing, each class was in a different room. To share our perplexing experiences were William Fields, Maynard Gibson from Wheatfield, Ronald Sanders, James Birky.

In the eighth grade, with Mrs. Randle as our sponsor, we felt as though we knew a little more about the high school side. Dale Hanaway, Jack Harland, and Helen Fox entered our class. Remember how thrilled we were when we received our diplomas? This was the year Mr. Eikenberry came as our new principal.

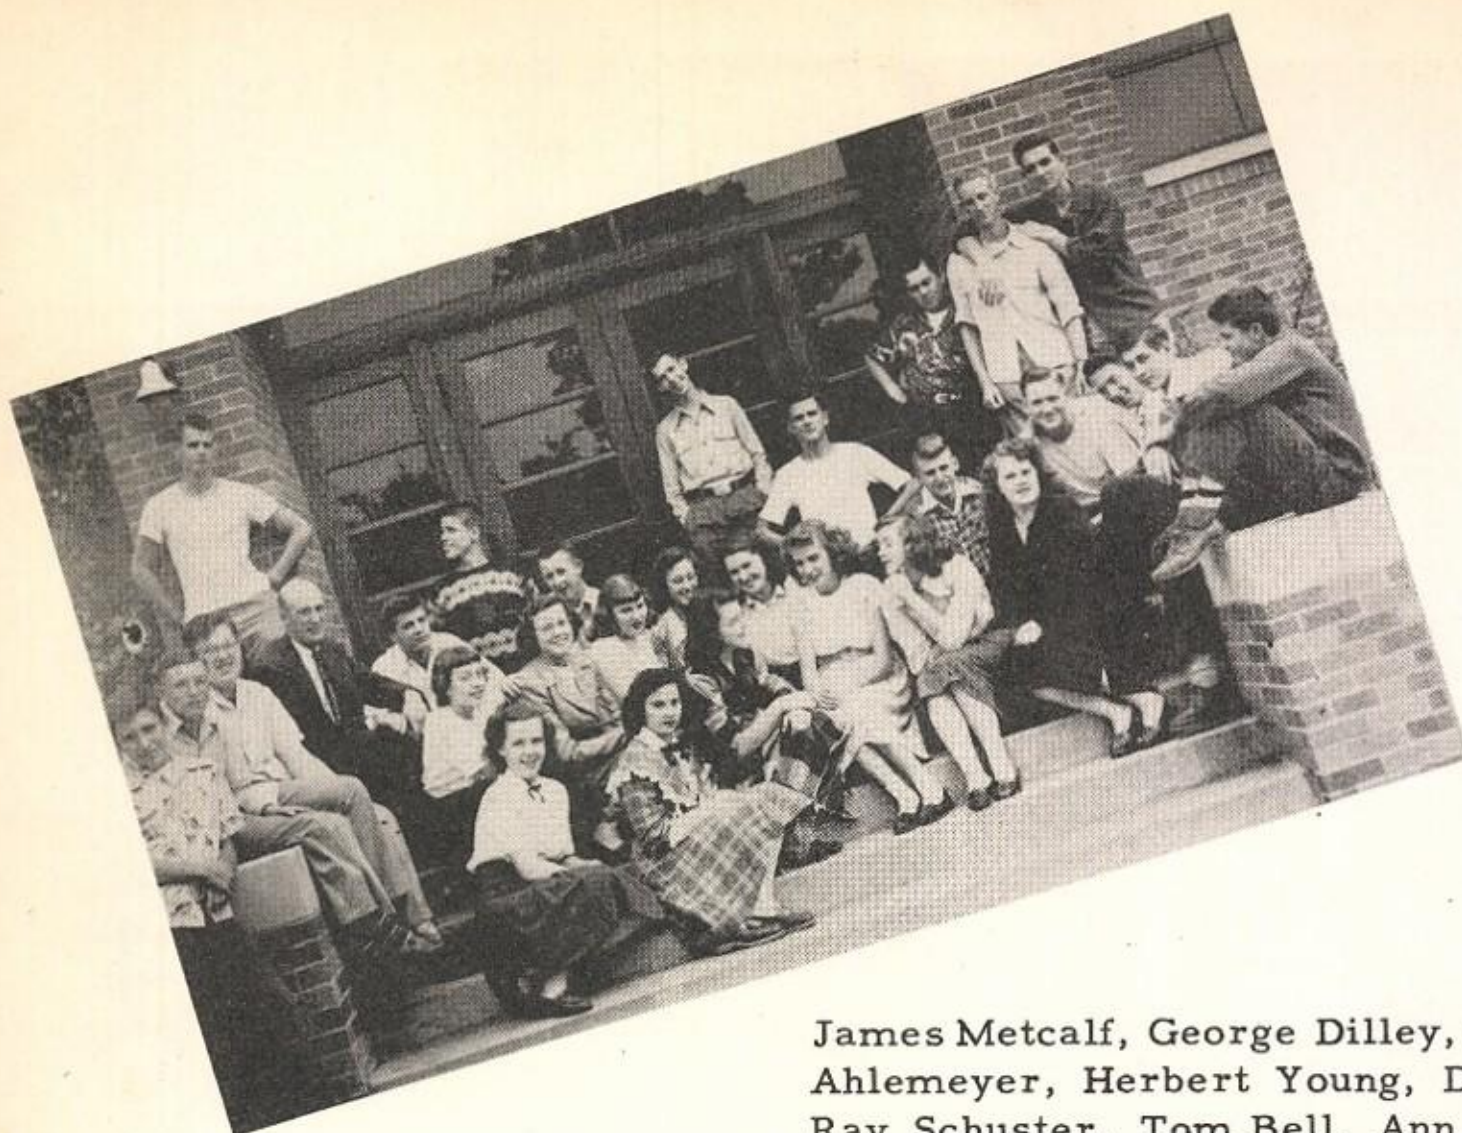

As freshmen, with Mrs. Mullins as sponsor, we still kept on learning. Learning along with us was Dean Bradley, Dean Osburn, Jim and Kathryn Bennett, Geraldine Nannengan, and Jean Smith. Because we were freshmen we were allowed to elect a freshman cheerleader. G.A.A. initiation was more fun!!

Usually they say your sophomore year is fairly easy but we were kept busy with our studies, activities and other things. This year we welcomed Charles Wagner, who came from Hammond. We ordered our class rings without serious argument. Mrs. Smith was our sponsor.

As soon as we became juniors, we started to think about the junior play and the prom that we gave in honor of the seniors. One of our big days was when we received our class rings. To help us along was Willis Birky and Harold Button. To share our troubles was our sponsor, Miss Haas.

Seniors at long last! Now we have only a few more things as seniors to do; senior play, ordering and getting our announcements, Senior Day, Junior and Senior Prom, and last and most impressing of all, our commencement night. We have lost and gained many students and friends during these twelve years, but those remaining to share these last few school memories are: Norma, Catherine, Christine, Muretta, Wilma, Gerda, Mary, Anita, Donna, Kathleen, Jeannine, Willis, Harold, Bob, Red, Bernard, Jack, Chuck, Tom, Ki, Mike, and Maynard.

We, the seniors of '49, wish to thank our teachers for all their help and for giving us a few of our cherished memories.
